

Canadian Professional Association
for Transgender Health

CPATH POSITION STATEMENT DSM AND ICD March, 2010

Gender variance and gender non-conforming behavior in children and adults do not constitute a psychological disorder.

And

Legislation should be rewritten to ensure that gender variant individuals continue to receive, as a minimum, access to currently available health care and, where possible, alternative ICD codes should be used.

Association Canadienne des professionnels en santé des personnes transsexuelles